So here I go again
Im caught up with no reason to be
And here we go again
Ive heard this tune before
Don't ask for much, just give me a little more
And time and time again
Weve fallen down and nothing changes
Ive heard it all before
Youre the one I adore
Don't ask for much, just give me a little more
Im worn and weary, Im desolated
My mind so frail, emaciated.
Im torn and tattered, Ive thought it over
I need a crutch don't leave me sober
So here I go again
Im making plans for starting over
And there you go again
Shaking me to the core
Don't ask for much, just give me a little more
I miss everything about you
I wake up to dream about you
Ask if Ive been holding up, holding up, holding up
So here I go again
It opens with the best intentions
This ending never ends
Ive seen it all before
Don't ask for much, just give me a little more
And now Im drunk
Im Rarely sober
Yet nows the time to make it over
