Ask me questions, get no answers give me nothing, take no chances show me books with empty pages wind your clocks and read your gauges shadow boxer

Tell me truths that have no meaning live in rooms that have no ceiling now your friends are all departed so your secret's closely guarded

Don't go walking out late at night

bolt your door, lock your windows tight

be much safer staying out of sight you're just a shadow boxer did you think you could make it?

you might go down in a state of fright watch out when you're all alone locked inside your safety zone you might find that you have turned to stone
