(J. Taglieri)
Sometimes things
Can happen to make you change your mind
From what you always thought you'd believe in
Don't know why
These dreams we have as children fade away
Must be this crazy world we live in
So tell me darlin'
Did you ever think that we would be the ones
To finally see what dreams are made of
Holding hands, understand
We are here in our little Shangri-La
No more tears, no more fears
Just you and me in our little Shangri-La
Life is hard
And no one teaches how to play the game
You fend for yourself, it's sink or swim
But you get one chance
To find the one who will help you find your way
To teach you all you need to win
So tell me darling
Did you ever dream you'd teach me everything
And show me what my dreams are made of
Holding hands, understand
We are here in our little Shangri-La
No more tears, no more fears
Just you and me in our little Shangri-La
Baby, we can find it
Hidden in our souls
All the hidden treasures never told
Holding hands, understand
We are here in our little Shangri-La
No more tears, no more fears
Just you and me in our little Shangri-La
