I was there, I was watching
Hidden in my time machine
Couldn't understand a thing that was quite a feeling
Cried my blues away
That was in the phone one day

I was watching city lights
They had turned from red to green
Wishing I was there with you
But I guess I like you too

Better go back to bed
Before I go out of my head

This is the evening of the day
Another chapter is ending
I can't wait till the morning comes

My mind is full of things to do
Don't know where to start, yeah
I can't wait till the morning comes

I was so surprised to see
That the world was everywhere
Maybe it's a sign for me
Saying I should change my mind
I'll think about it later on
No time for that right now

Got a feeling when I'm back
My life's gonna change for good
Hopefully we're on the right track
Feels like we're both in the mood
We're getting closer to the next page in the book

This is the evening of the day
Another chapter is ending
I can't wait till the morning comes

My mind is full of things to do

Don't know where to start, yeah
I can't wait till the morning comes
(Gotta move, gotta move, gotta move)

This is the evening of the day
Another chapter is ending
I can't wait till the morning comes
(Gotta move, gotta move, gotta move)

My mind is full of things to do
Don't know where to start, yeah
I can't wait till the morning comes
(Gotta move, gotta move, gotta move)

I just can't wait till the morning comes
(Gotta move, gotta move, gotta move)
