"On The Run"

Show me the way
'Cause I am lost for good
And I can't pretend to know
Where I'm going to

For too long
I have been on the run
And I don't remember what
Made me leave in the first place

One of these days
My pain will go away
You have your way
So don't let me go astray

Everything's crushed around me
It's all too white
I'll leave a mark that someone will see
Hopefully

All the places I go
They're all the same, you know
I can't move on
'Til I've seen how it was before

One of these days
The pain will go away
You have your way
So don't let me go astray

Don't let me go
