"Miles Away"

Miles away and standing next to me whispering words that never tell is my perception of reality feeding this private little hell

Can you hear me, I'm inside facing the fears I hide hide from you?

You're getting miles and miles away
and it gets further everyday

A smile that used to chase the clouds away igniting a fire in my soul
How many times you had to light the way
But where it got me I don't know

Can you see me
Here inside
Tracing the tears I've cried over you

You're getting miles and miles away
and it gets further everyday

Tomorrow you'll be gone
miles away
