I'm looking out, you're looking in
You just don't see the beauty in anything!
You're wasting time, it's such a shame
You don't understand, it's yourself who's to blame!
Cause you know and everyone knows
That everything is changing every day!

The way that it is,
Will never be anything more than you give.
You're throwing away the life that you live,
It all depends on you.
Things are gone in a flash so soon!
Gone in a flash so soon!
Things are gone in a flash so soon!

You spread distaste, I disagree,
You're so closed off, you're talking so openly!
The words you say, become paper thin
They're deprived of weight, you're too empty within!
Cause you know and everyone knows
That everything is changing every day!

The way that it is,
Will never be anything more than you give.
You're throwing away the life that you live,
It all depends on you.
Things are gone in a flash so soon!
Gone in a flash so soon!
Things are gone in a flash so soon!

The way that it is,
Will never be anything more than you give.
You're throwing away the life that you live,
It all depends on you.
Things are gone in a flash so soon!
Gone in a flash so soon!
Things are gone in a flash so soon!
It all depends on you.
Things are gone in a flash so soon!
