

Eva & The Heartmaker

"Traces Of You"

Visit "Traces Of You" on MotoLyrics.com

I've been trying to leave the past behind
Cause you're hanging on inside my mind
Don't wanna lose you as a friend
But I guess that we have reached the end

Every time I try to pull away
There's a part of me that longs to stay
I don't wanna see you fall apart
That would only go and break my heart

When I see your face I think of yesterdays
Memories I can't erase
So many traces of you left in me
In the years to come I'll still remember you
All the things we used to do
So many changes that we went through

Every minute when we felt the same
Is a moment in a picture frame
It don't matter what the future brings
I would never wanna change a thing

When I see your face I think of yesterdays
Memories I can't erase
So many traces of you left in me
In the years to come I'll still remember you
All the things we used to do
So many changes that we went through

So no matter what the future brings
I would never wanna change a thing

When I see your face I think of yesterdays
Memories I can't erase
So many traces of you left in me
In the years to come I'll still remember you
All the things we used to do
So many changes that we went through

