call me crazy while i'm standing at your door my have never even ever touched the floor would you still come over even if you don't know what it's for horses line the sky inside my leisure suit i've worn these clothes for 7 days that's nothing new and despite my coldfeet the sun will melt the snow again soon the sun will melt the snow despite the winter cold i thought you stopped and dropped by as your hands grew old and i'll take my shoes off once i know it's not so god damn cold
