When your head slides off
and rolls up on my door
before I fall awake.
I will die again because my heart's not
there I left it in your hands.
Just because you come, it doesn't mean I'm there
maybe there's something more.
You could make me come and I'll be on T.V.
just like I see you now.
Yesterday you smiled.
Surprised that I was there and you were smiling at me, I didn't know you cared.
I wish I had you now but I'll just drop my head so you can live some more.
I know when you'll leave and you will shine again before I fade away.
Yesterday you smiled.
Surprised you said my name and told me that you cared, I never loved you more.
