Historically speaking I've just been wasting my time
Basically seeking what's right in front me to find
I venture to say I thought this would be so hard to do Did I mention that life is the way and the light of the way is truth

I had to give it up, I had to give it up
Found out that love's always surrounding me
Found out that love's all I ever really need
Found out for myself, that there is nothing else
Easier to find out first
Today ends my search
Historically lookin round for something that aint lost
Basically choosing to forget who paid the cost
I now know you've been lovin me for a long time
Not sure why I didn't see, but I'm so glad that now you're mine

I had to give it up, I had to give it up
Found out that love's always surrounding me
Found out that love's all I ever really need
Found out for myself, that there is nothing else
Easier to find out first
Today ends my search
Over, so glad my search is over,
I'm so glad. Its over
And I don't have to search no more
Found out that love's always surrounding me
Found out that love's all I ever really need
So find out for yourself, that there is nothin else
Easier to find out first
Today ends my search
