To See Your Face Again

Hey babe it's been a long time
It's been a long life down the line
So much to tell, so little time
I've been thinking bout the day you were mine
I still remember what I felt
When you were here beside me
Now you've gone away
I got so much to say

How I miss you like crazy
How you're always on my mind
I try to leave the past behind me
Always hoping you will find me
I would give anything
Just to see your face again

Didn't realise what I was losing baby
But now I'm looking back on what we used to have
You gave me back my smile, and made lovin' so easy
I always wanted something I couldn't have
No tears in my eyes, too numb to feel the pain
Too blind to realise, you were never coming back again
Now I'm left with the blame
And I'm feeling so ashamed
And you've gone away
And I want to say

How I miss you like crazy
How you're always on my mind
I try to leave the past behind me
Always hoping you will find me
I would give anything
Just to see your face again

You are always on my mind
Is it right or am I wasting my time
You are always on my mind
Are you coming back or am I wasting my time
