I drove all night, made all these miles
But I'm still far from over you
I went this far, but apparently I've got a slow car, cuz I'm still far from over you

Why must it be that I just can't forget
Someone who don't seem to care of me
My heart just breaks by the thought of you
Tell me little baby, what am I to do?

But drove all night,
still as far from you as I am now,
I'm a long way from over you

Why must it be that I just can't forget
Someone who don't seem to care of me
My heart just breaks by the thought of you
Tell me little baby, what am I to do?

But drove all night,
still as far from you as I am right now,
I'm a long way from over you

I'm still far from over you

I'm still far from over you
