Here you come
Ain't looking too good Saying to me
how u feel misunderstood

She never knew what it took to be a man like you

I guess, baby,
an apology won't do
Cheating on her once, oh four min and I'm through

She never knew, just what it took to be a man like you

Oh feeling alone now, baby?
Honey, what a shame
Why you'll get over it, she can never love again

Here you come
Might as well again
So you can cry your blues off
Draw that same refrain

She never knew just what it took to be a man like you

You're feeling alone now, baby?
Honey, what a shame
Why you can always hear, she can never love again

Here you come, might as well again
So you can cry your blues off
Draw that same refrain

She never knew just what it took to be a man like you
