Again you're calling me
Need the light to see
All the dragons and beasts hiding underneath
You say your bed ain't safe
It's being rocked by waves
You aren't sleepy 'cause pirates are on their way

You're here in my arms
The day won't let go
I feel you're falling

Close your eyes my love
Leave the world behind
In your sleep the northern star
Brings your dreams to life
Lay your head down to rest
'Till the birds start to sing
I will be here when the new day begins

So you still can't sleep
Want some honey milk
For the fairies some peas, apple pie and cheese
Or they won't go to bed
They'd turn poppy red
Start screaming and jumping right on your head

You're here in my arms
The day won't let go
I feel you're falling

Close your eyes my love
Leave the world behind
In your sleep the northern star
Brings your dreams to life
Lay your head down to rest
'Till the birds start to sing
I will be here when the new day begins
I will be here when the new day begins

Close your eyes my love
Leave the world behind

In your sleep the northern star
Brings your dreams to life
Lay your head down to rest
'Till the birds start to sing
I will be here when the new day begins
I will be here when the new day begins
I will be here when the new day begins
