

Evan Anthem, The "Look At The Sky"

Visit "Look At The Sky" on MotoLyrics.com

I really just want to leave and drive away
Drive far from this place
Where it seems surreal to even think how great it would be

I need a little bit of time to myself to think things over
I need to know this all will work out
I found my weakness, found my weakness

Give yourself a chance to be
Be who you are, just be who you are

Just take the time to think of how it's changed
Changed so much this far
A new day has come to even think
Where has the time gone?

I need a little bit of time to myself to think things over
I need to this all will all work out
I found my weakness

Give yourself a chance to breathe
Breathe in the air of the cold night
