"Replay"

Let's stare into the headlights and replay the images that play over in our heads.
Forget it, just let it go.
I'll close my eyes to think of you but think of nothing at all.
I love the way you know me.
Forget it, just let it go.

And we're left with thoughts of what we could have done.
But let's not regret this,
let's not regret.

We'll remember the years in a day
for years pass like a day.
They played over in our heads.
Remember this, remember.
I'll show you how this all works out.
Believe me when I say
I love the way you know me.
Remember this, remember.

And we're left with thoughts of what we could have
done.
But let's not regret this,
let's not regret
