Sunrise, and it breaks my heart
To see her standin' there
She always says goodbye with wild flowers
And ribbons tied up in her hair
Now she greets me with a smile,
Says, hey where you goin'
With that old guitar
I can see you got your your hat
Your bag's already packed
And out in the car, tell me...

[Chorus]
Who's gonna take care of the horses
When you're gone?
Who'll be my rock
When I don't feel so strong?
Who's gonna mend all the fences
Out here on the range?
Who's gonna hold me at night
When I'm dreamin' of mamma
And my heart just can't let go?
Who's gonna take care of the horses
When you're gone?

I said I know, we can always
A little help 'round this place
You're gonna stay here with Aunt Jenny
But your love's ridin' shotgun with me all the way
And when I'm up there in the bright lights
With a crowd full of strangers
Singin' this song
I'll send it out to you
And up to mama too
Soon I'll be back home
She says I know , but...

[Chorus]
Who's gonna take care of the horses
When you're gone?
Who'll be my rock
When I don't feel so strong?

Who's gonna mend all the fences
Out here on the range?
Who's gonna hold me at night
When I'm dreamin' of mamma
And my heart just can't let go?
Who's gonna take care of the horses
When you're gone?
[repeat]

Who's gonna take care of the horses
When you're gone?
