She only decides not to kill him out of spite
She makes it known that shes obviously willing
Two crazy kids being crazy while their parents were away
Thats what they say in the papers in the morning

He's been to school once or twice
And she'll admit that shes attended it once too
But they've both been locked up
They've both been beat down
They get off on all the trouble their into

They took the Rolls to the swap meet.
And traded up for fast cars
Head for California where the supervision's so sparse.
Headed through the desert, the desert of Nevada.
Called ahead to California You don't know whats comin'
at cha.

He's quick to throw all her cassettes out of the car.
Cuz they don't hold the politics they honor.
What kind of hipocrit is he? Well any idiot can see.
He takes a fifty dollar kick down from some doctor.

He's been to school once or twice.
And she'll admit that shes attended it once too.
But they've both been locked up.
They've both been beat down.
They get off on all the trouble their into.

The Rolls to the swap meet.
Traded up for fast cars.
Boarded them for hell where the supervision's so sparse.
Headed through the desert, the desert of Nevada.
Called ahead to California You don't know whats comin'
at cha.
