something so right, seems like an opportunity that cannot be passed. your heart is screaming...yes. your head is clouded. my vision is clouded very easily by the time spent. time only brings about more pain (2x). the antithesis to why the opportunity was presented. saved by your absence. redemption by loneliness. solace in seclusion. wouldn't it be easy? redemption by loneliness. wouldn't it be easy right now? too little time, too many things to find. what seems like the best right now. too little time, too many things to find. what seems like the best right now, may not be forever.
