Just come away with me
Because I really wanna show you
How our love can be
The gauge that you used to know
That you can keep my heart
In the heat of the desert
And when the sky gets dark
It's nothing to me
Nothing to me
Nothing to me
This means nothing to me

Break down, break down
I will in my head, in my heart, in my soul
Break down, break down
I wanted to let you know
Shoulda' just let this go

It's not infatuation
So why the hesitation?
And I know this part
You're perfect for me baby
We are the ones who will make this hard
I never give up and I take this to far
I'm holding you up and and you're holding me back
It's a promise
It's a paycheck
And you want it
And I hate it

Break down, break down
I will in my head, in my heart, in my soul
Break down, break down
I wanted to let you know
I couldn't just let this go
Maybe I had to know
Couldn't just let this go away

This is the place
That I've never been able
To leave, that we call innocence

And while I'm holding my breath
Like I live under water
Can't decide if I'll sink or swim

This is the place
That you leave every summer
Like a bird who is caught in the wind
And while you're holding your breath
Like you live underwater
I've decided I just can't win

(for the grace you take from me, hope and patience burn like dreams, for me)
