"I Get Lost"

When the birds spoke to the moonlight
They told it to go away
When the stars were sung sung the same song
They cried and slipped away

But it's you I see inside
But it's you I see inside
If we both wake at the same time
It's 5 a.m. in May

I get lost when I'm holding you
I give up and you know its true
That if it wasn't for the pain i feel
My heart would be yours today
And my darling you would have to stay

So think of me when our time is gone
I'll think of you when the day's too long
You are the pain that i need when it is 5 a.m. in May

I get lost when I'm, holding you
I give up and you know its true
That if it wasn't for the pain i feel
My heart would be yours today
And my darling you would have to stay
