oh im so tired of looking through the dirty glass of trying just a little harder of chasing what i cannot catch oh im so broken a shadow of what i used to be the daylight is fading all the strength is leaving me

I'm on fire
burning with the hope of night midnight be my savior remake me by the dawn's light

yeah its all over
i hear the messages that they're sending
we are all done
this world is ending.

yeah its so quiet,
or at least it will be soon once the light has left me and my time is through i hope i never breathe again or open my eyes and see again but i feel it deep in me this thing this demon who cannot stop believing.

I'm on fire
burning with the hope of night

we are all done
this world is ending.
