You and I have different lives
You said our worlds could never be
How I don't make you mine
In time you will see, you will see
Girl, what can I do to prove my love to you
How many times must I give my own to you
Tell me what can it be
But you keep telling
But you keep telling
That we could never
We could never share
Another night
Another night of love
Another night
You keep telling
You keep telling
We could never
We could never share
Another night
Another night of love
Another night

Sit in the dark

All alone at night

By myself, wondering

I hug you too tight

To stop these tears that falls from my eyes

Thinking of you

I'm leaving you away

Sometimes I find words hard to say

But you're huting me

Your thoats are huting me, girl

Why can't you see

But you keep telling

But you keep telling

That we could never

We could never share

Another night

Another night of love

Another night

You keep telling

You keep telling

We could never

We could never share

Another night

Another night of love

Another night
