Get me through the heart of the freeway

Got to see the lights up in New York City

I'm so close I think I can hear the sound of the taxi siren symphony

Don't you want to feel amazing?

Baby you know I do

You get back ten times what you give freely

Like my mamma told me

Love can move you take you deeper every time

Can make the darkest moments seem like heaven's come alive

Love can move you to a place inside your heart

Where you can fear no evil and acceptance is a natural part of life.

Get me to the heart of the subway

Creepin' like a snake into New York City

I'm so close I think I can see those lights

Let the sun get closer to the ground

Don't you want to feel amazing?

Baby you know I do

You get back ten times what you give freely

Like my mamma told me

Can make the darkest moments seem like heaven's
come alive

Love can move you to a place inside your heart

Where you can fear no evil and acceptance is a natural
part of life.

And I breathe the love you've given

And I feel the love you've hidden

And though it's cold down here well I can honestly say

I can still stay

That love can move you

That love can move you to a child

Love can move you take you deeper every time

Can make the darkest moments seem like heaven's
come alive

Love can move you to a place inside your heart

part of life
