The ice is really cold
The street lights really old
The child's all alone
As she melts into her own
And slowly fades away
Into a river full of shame
But at least numb to the pain
Can you see it?
Can you feel the shallow wave?
From a needle to the grave
From her hell to far away
Your my only
Your so sad my valentine
On your journey to the light
But first straight to the fire
And we are
All that we are Holding on
Till we fall apart
And we are
All that we are Holding on
Till we fall apart
And we are
All that we are Holding on
Until we fall apart
And we are
All that we are Holding on
Until we fall apart
We are
All that we are
All that we are
All that we are
All that we are
All that we are
All that we are
All that we are
All that we are
All that we are
