What's up with the world we live in?
Its the greatest of concerns
There comes a time when we all crash and burn
I'm so sick of trying
But the suspicion drags me on
I'm never right, it seems I'm always wrong

Its the voice of reason
Its the voice that won't go away
While I feel the pressure

[Chorus]:
Every single day
I'm finding my way
Looks like I've become
Looks like I've become
Every day
I'm finding my way
Looks like I've become
Looks like I have done now
Lost but now I'm found

Still I feel so empty
Where do I belong?
I spin around in circles all day long
Give me one more reason
Reason to regret
I've seen the worst, and this I can't forget

Its the voice of reason
Its the voice that won't go away
While I feel the pressure

[Chorus]:
Every single day
I'm finding my way
Looks like I've become
Looks like I've become
Every day
I'm finding my way
Looks like I've become

Looks like I have done now

Inside these walls
An empty space
Picture myself
Would fill this place
And I close my eyes
And begin to make
The great escape

[Chorus]:
Every single day
I'm finding my way
Looks like I've become
Looks like I've become
Every day
I'm finding my way
Looks like I've become
