Mark Hollis)

Take my hand

Colours seem so black inside your head

Does everything reflect the time you spend

So tired of thinking you

You hide your face

Don't ask me to excuse

I'm only laughing

Again, a game... again

Some things are right

I'm only laughing

Again, a game... again

Save your words

Words they're never there for those who try

A stranger in a world no longer mine

Sometimes I'm feeling used

I'll change my place

I'd sooner be excused

You're only laughing

Again, a game... again

I'm only laughing

Again, a game... again

Some things are right

I'm only laughing

Again, a game... again

There are times I confess

I'm not easy to accept

So come find I'll react

I'm a reason to be there

They're only laughing

Again, a game... again

I'm only laughing

Again, a game... again
