I think to myself
Time is so unfair...
Life goes by in the blink of an eye,
And I wonder if I'm breathing too fast.
My heart is screaming for something!

All I need is a timeout,
Timeout from everything...

I am young and I want to believe,
That life is passion,
That we are free to climb any wall
And rise after every fall.
I'm searching for something...

All I need is a timeout,
Timeout from everything...

I would like to stop for a minute...

All I need is a timeout,
Timeout from everything...
