In your eyes I see only one find me the to place to run

That's where I belong

There we rise ,your glory and mine

Your pain is over now

I make you shine , still believin'

All the love in the world won't take me away from you

My love is stronger , I am what you make me

All the love in the world won't take you away from me

In all my wonder I forever lay down here with you

I find when love slips away

Reach out for all you can

before it's too late

There you fly , returning to me

Out of your darkest nights I stand alone

Still believin'

All the love in the world won't take me away from you

My love is stronger I forever lay down here with you

(break)

My love is true

All your darkest nights ,I stand alone

Still believin'

All the love in the world won't take me away from you

My love is stronger , I forever lay down here with you

(repeat last 2 lines and fade out)
