Ah....

Lord bless all. Lord let all be blessed.

And when you sleep. London streets are silent.

All the world is full of song.

And when you have woken , after dawn has broken.

Snow filled fens will vaguely fill your eyes .

You'll be guided by good will.

Now the bells in your town are ringing .

Far away the joy of carols singing .

Bringing all a song to share.

Lord bless all. Lord let all be blessed

And when you sleep . London streets are silent

(break)

Ah....
