

Tamar Kaprelian

"California"

Visit "California" on MotoLyrics.com

There's something pure about this feeling
That neither you or I can explain
The simplicity of never leaving
And conversations go unsaid
Life is never what you plan

So I think that you should move to California
When the streets are lit, the sky is too (ooh ooh ooh)
Cause where you are isn't where you need to be
When you listen, can you hear her calling you?
Yeah in California, skies are always blue

Back and forth a summer's dance
Isn't right without you here
But the elegance of this romance
Is that you know, I know, we know, that it's real
Love isn't always against our odds

So I think that you should move to California
When the streets are lit, the sky is too (ooh ooh ooh)
Cause where you are isn't where you need to be
When you listen, can you hear her calling you?
Yeah in California, skies are always blue

Cause where you are isn't where you need to be
In California you'll be here with me

So I think that you should move to California
When the streets are lit, the sky is too (ooh ooh ooh)
Cause where you are isn't where you need to be
When you listen, can you hear her calling you?
Yeah in California, skies are always blue

Visit Tamar Kaprelian page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.