

Faction, The

"I Decide For Me"

Visit "I Decide For Me" on MotoLyrics.com

I don't remember anyone dying leaving you to run my life

what's this trip running through your head, you're not a mom a pop or even a wife go ahead and impress the clowns, you're in a circle of babbling sheep

I see you talking to a friend of yours, was it by chance you were looking at me

You should go away

And take your judgment with you because you decide for you, and I decide for me

Go back to your glittering discos, and take your judgment with you

I think I could understand if you were God up in heaven above

But you're just a goon I try to ignore, you're the hawk that killed the dove

Just why are you so concerned with what goes on, is it really a sin?

I look at you and I say to myself, how could you be from the valley within.

Visit Faction, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.