"The Brain"

It's a test, I adapt or die

When most of it is an all out lie

A story's been undisclosed against a will that was never told

Undisclosed who's bad or good

They've the force they'll make it good

They disclose, repeat the rest

They're the ones that I detest

The brain dominates, dictates, controls you, says we all lose

The thing is set into a mold

Lies details and when I'm told

??

Don't ask me who's fighting who

I give up on watching the news

No one knows what it's good for, keeping score. (I'll check with Gavin on these!)
