the devil said the world was dead as his piece he claimed and god would boast that he'd have the most his faith reign down in shame the bet was placed and they made no haste as the blood filled the crown The prophets went on to Babylon they carried the cross that showed for the wicked who's seen whats all in between in the sacrament of Low the angels formed a circle below Heaven's blaze the circle closed in their savior was dead and all thats left to be saved oh Calonapin are sleeping beside your dead brothers bed all this time I try to pick you up but this dying inside has made the load too tough and deep in the garden the devil raised his head please let me back in Heaven and forgive the words I have said the answer was no and he let it show as his brother said he wept and he sighed as his angels died and his wrists stained on his bed (chorus)
