Are you receiving this now?
And can you touch the fleeting sky
If you can hear me now
Could you at least give me a sign

Tell me when it all went wrong
Tell me what is going on
Would you tell me if I promised that
I won't tell anyone?

The same reply

The same reply to all the questions in my head
The same reply to all the words I've ever said
The same reply

Even the things that I like
Don't seem to touch me on the inside
I'm the boy that once knew
Are you receiving this now?

It seems that no one can tell me
Exactly what I'm needing to know
I feel like I knew more about me before
A strange obsession with complications
I don't care anymore for...

The same reply to all the questions in my head
The same reply to all the words I've ever said
The same reply it always fades me out instead
I'm blinded in the motorway
I'm trying hard to find my way back home

Are you receiving this now?

Every minute of my life
Is a minute off my life
With no knowledge of the end

Oh close your eyes
Open them and you'll be blind

All you got to do is see with your mind

Oh it's all I got (but) you're gonna throw it away

Every minute of my life
Is a minute off my life
With no knowledge of the end

Hey God
Did someone break your heart?
Is that the reason why
The world's falling apart?

Hey God
What can't you do to me?
It's such a lonely world
You've got me living in

Oh my lonely world (are) you gonna throw me away?

You can't change everything
You can't change everything
You can't change everything
You can't change everything
So come back to me my friend

You can't love everyone
You can't trust everyone
You can't reach everyone
You can't save everyone
So come back to me again

You can't blame anyone
You can't hurt anyone
You can't wrong anyone
You can't hate anyone
