Find me, I point the finger at me so I've gotta know
Hide in me and all I know is I'm somebody else 'cause I don't see you

The digger's going down, he makes no sound
Just sends his seekers out
Another space I've found that's been messed around
I'm always fixing parts of me

You always make me hide and I don't know where to go
You always make me cry everyday
You always make me cry

Find me, I point the finger at me so I've gotta know
Hide in me and all I know is I'm somebody else 'cause I
don't see you
And I don't feel you

I'm bigger when I burn, through pain I learn
I love myself by hating me
All this space and time
I'll make it mine by letting go and giving up me

You always make me hide and I don't know where I go
You always make me cry
You always make me cry

Find me, I point the finger at me so I've gotta know
Hide in me and all I know is I'm somebody else 'cause I
don't see you
And I don't feel you

And i don't know what I'm going through

You will never know me
You will never own me

Find me, I point the finger at me so I've gotta know
Hide in me and all I know is I'm somebody else 'cause I
don't see you
And I don't feel you
