You let the beast out and grease up all my wires
I lick your skin but can only taste the rubber
Your face, my place, I'll pick you on the way
I miss your kiss, you left a mark on my lips
You make me feel like I'm never gonna recover
Have you thought about it?
We'll come together

You'll sink without it
Just think about it

Because you're not a lover
Because you're not a lover
I can take you all the way
Because you're not a lover
You're only undercover

You let me bleed just to feed your own desire
I'm on my knees but I don't know what you're after
Your face, my place, I'll pick you up on the way
I miss your kiss, you left a mark on my lips
You make me feel like I'm never gonna recover

You'll sink without it
Just think about it

Because you're not a lover
Because you're not a lover
I can take you all the way
Because you're not a lover
Because you're not a lover
You'll love me now
Because you're not a lover
Because you're not a lover
I can take you all the way
Because you're not a lover
You're only undercover
