Rumors spread, lies are told
Covering up a lover so nobody knows
Deceit and denial, foolish alibis
One innocent soul gets burned

I used to be that woman
I used to be that woman
She'll soon find out
The hard way about him

It won't take too long
This small town's talking
And it'll hurt like hell
And break her heart
I know, I used to be that woman

She's even asked if there's someone else
Then she says she's sorry for having doubts
She'll lose a little weight, maybe color her hair
Do anything to spark the fire that's no longer there

I used to be that woman
I used to be that woman
She'll soon find out
The hard way about him

It won't take too long
This small town's talking
And it'll hurt like hell
And break her heart
I know, I used to be that woman

When I see what's being done
My mind goes back in time
When I was one
Who believed those lies

I used to be that woman
I used to be that woman
She'll soon find out
The hard way about him

It won't take too long
This small town's talking
And it'll hurt like hell
And break her heart
I know, I used to be that woman

I used to be that woman
I used to be that woman
