Fake Messiah - Regret

You left me to die in the gutter, left me here to rot away but you did not quite finish, now i am heading your way.

You better be regretful for your sins
as you meet your maker

You cannot take back whats been said and you surely cant change what has happend This situation dosent look bright thing wont just turn over night

Your days have been counted one by one they're plucked of the flower not a long time to go living your life on borrowed time

You better be regretful for your sins
as you meet your maker

You cannot take back whats been said
and you surely cant change what has happend
This situation dosent look bright

You left me to die in this gutter, You left me to rot away rot away,
rot away

You walked the wrong path pissed off the wrong guy turned your back on me for the last time
