Everything you need you know, He's right there
All ya gotta do is say just one prayer
Won't you take this shot just give it what you got
And you never have to worry 'cause He's right there

It's not hard to read you, it's so easy
It's like I can read your mind
In fact empty expression on your face
It shows what's goin' on inside

You've got lots of questions
And the answer is just like it was before
He is waiting on the sideline
When you realize you just can't take anymore

Everything you need you know, He's right there
All ya gotta do is say just one prayer
Won't you take this shot just give it what you got
You never have to worry 'cause He's right there

Everything you need you know, He's right there
All you got to do is say just one prayer
Won't you let Him be, the one to set you free
You never have to fear because He's right there

I can't understand it, what you waitin' for
You tried so many things
And nothing's really helped you
Instead it's getting harder now it seems

It doesn't even matter
With one touch of His hand all is passed away
You're a new creation
And you're lookin' at a brand new day, brand new day

Everything you need you know, He's right there
All ya gotta do is say just one prayer
Won't you take this shot just give it what you got
You never have to worry 'cause He's right there

Everything you need you know, He's right there
All you got to do is say just one prayer

Won't you let Him be, the one to set you free
You never have to fear because He's right there

Everything you need you know, He's right there
All ya gotta do is say just one prayer
Won't you take this shot just give it what you got
You never have to worry 'cause He's right there

Everything you need you know, He's right there
All you got to do is say just one prayer
Won't you let Him be, the one to set you free
You never have to fear because He's right there

Everything you need you know, He's right there
All ya gotta do is say just one prayer
Won't you take this shot just give it what you got
You never have to worry 'cause He's right there

Everything you need you know, He's right there
All you got to do is say just one prayer
Won't you let Him be, the one to set you free
And you never have to fear because He's right there

Everything you need you know, He's right there
All ya gotta do is say just one prayer
Won't you take this shot just give it what you got
You never have to worry 'cause He's right there
Everything you need you know, He's right there
