All the times I've fallin' victim to my pride
Patiently, you have waited by my side
My guiding light through my darkest night
You're the one thing I do right

No, I wasn't meant to live my life alone
The load is just too heavy
And the road is just too long

When I try to do it all myself
It always turns out wrong
No, I wasn't meant to live my life alone

But I've tried a million times to take control
But I find, I always dig myself a hole
And there I stand with a broken plan
Reachin' for your hand

'Cause I wasn't meant to live my life alone
The load is just too heavy
And the road is just too long

When I try to do it all myself
I find I'm not that strong
No, I wasn't meant to live my life

I wasn't meant to live my life
I wasn't meant to live my life alone
