It's nothing new
For a woman to love her man
Yes, I know familiar story
I know you'll understand

And I've been loving you
A long, long time
So I'll make you a promise
I won't change my mind

And you'll never be alone
Never broken hearted
If you think I love you now
I've just started

Too many times
People break each other's heart
By making vows
That so quickly fall apart

So as long as you want me
By your side
I'll be your woman, your lover
And I'll keep you satisfied

And you'll never be alone
Never broken hearted
If you think I love you now
I've just started
If you think I love you now
I've just started
