

Tammy Wynette

"Just for a Minute There"

Visit "Just for a Minute There" on MotoLyrics.com

I thought I saw you tonight move through the crowd
There was a moment I called your name out loud
But when he turned to come to someone I thought I'm all alone
You know it's been years since I felt so alone

But for a minute there your presence fill the air
I heard you whisper my name telling me how much you care
Oh how I miss just being inside your arms
Lord I'd give everything I own just for a minute there

It's funny how love keeps getting stronger with time
And how easy it is for the heart to not walk the line
Now I'm tearing down walls years built around memories
Cause it's been so long since you've been this close to me

But for a minute there your presence fill the air
I heard you whisper my name telling me how much you
care
Oh how I miss just being inside your arms
Lord I'd give everything I own just for a minute there
Lord I'd give everything I own just for a minute there.

Visit Tammy Wynette page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.