You emptied all the closets
You packed up all your things
You loaded up a big old truck
With all our hopes and dreams

Did you hurry through the leavin'?
'Cause you missed some things on your way
You left memories layin' all over the place

There's a hallway where we made love
When the kids were not around
And the sad regrets of how we let
Our world come tumblin' down

There's so much still here
Of the love we shared
That will never be erased
You left memories layin' all over the place

If you had to go
The least you could have done
Is not leave anything behind
Now everywhere I turn
There's a part of you that burns, in my mind

When you walked out you must have thought
There was nothin' else to take,
Cause you left memories layin' all over the place

You left memories layin' all over the place.
