We started out fast
We started out slow
And it figures that I'd be the last to know
That you, were only playing a game
Wasn't my face you saw
Just a girl you once knew by a different name
And if your heart is really in this
I wish you'd find a way to show it
'Cuz I'm out on a line
Wondering which way to go
Caught between your violet skies
And your blue eyes
I'm feeling like indigo
With no one to call my own
You said that I am the light of the moon
The light of the sun
And I'm the place in which all your good things go
And you said you
Don't wanna see me cry
You just can't bear to say goodbye
Before I do
So if your heart is really in this
Could you find a way to let me know it
'Cuz I'm out on a line
Wondering which way to go
Caught between your violet skies
And your blue eyes
I'm feeling like indigo
With no one to call my own
I'm tired of the meaningless words you say
We're perfect and broken in one
Fucked up day
And I'm out on a line
Wondering which way to go
Caught between your violet skies
And your blue eyes
I'm feeling like indigo
With no one to call my own
