You, you made me feel like I could
I could be part of your life
But then you took it right back
Took it right back despite

You are the queen of my heart
You are the soul of my art
You tell me stories I just adore
Tell me more

Everything that I do
I dedicate to you
Your eyes keep shining like lights off the shore

Anytime we are together, I feel
Like staying this way forever
We had a good run,
But still I miss all the things we have done
And now the end has come,
And as I watch you I wish you had tried

I, I had one friend in my life
But I think I lost her tonight
And I don't think that I can Get her back despite

All of the things I could do
They never seem true enough for you
The more that I try, the more I step all over your shoes
And now you hear me sing, I let these words ring
But still I see you don't hear a thing

Anytime we are together, I feel
Like staying this way forever
We had a good run,
But still I miss all the things we have done
And now the end has come,
And as I watch you I wish you had tried

(And now you hear me sing)

(You hear me let these words ring)

(You can't escape the reality)

(And now you hear me sing)

(You can't escape the reality)

You never really learned

I'll always occupy that place inside that you called mine
And I can't get too familiar

Anytime we are together... I feel
Like staying this way forever
We had a good run,
But still I miss all the things we have done
And now the end has come,
And as I watch you I wish you had tried

I wish you had tried.
