Take a breath and listen in,
try and work it out from wondering, you said you want it too, but you've given up.

Taken back from what was then, no use understanding whats within,
you said that wasn't true, and just given up.

don't leave me now,
you said you wanted more,
don't leave me now, alone.

try and smile,
you've caught the virus,
of lonely times.
still i smile,
you caught the virus scars.

set aside the things you see live the life that left you crumbling, out of sight is out of mind, and thats good enough.

your presence branded, left on me in the cold alone, i'm worn again. tainted, fallen down, i'm not getting up

don't leave me now,
you said you wanted more,
don't leave me now, alone.

try and smile,
you've caught the virus,
still i smile,
you've caught the virus scars.

make way for life,

so that i don't have to build them up inside.

forget your ways.

try and smile,
you've caught the virus,
of lonely times.
still i smile,
you've caught the virus scars.,
