Shy People -- Shy People (1987)

[Transcribed by Bob Pietkivitch]

Down through the ages
With same structures and thoughts
Living and feeling
With same troubles can keep on How to escape
From the jungle we build
How to remain
That's a dream fulfilled
Shy people lone survivors in the natural dream
Shy people fearful creatures outside are insane
You will never be part of our lives
You will never be part of our lives
Shy people dream through their lives
Time, that reflecting ray light, a beam through the night
Those minions of dreams not a week lets them by My fathers behavior was ruining the land
Sun breathes out of wide eyes people understand
Shy people lone survivors in the natural dream
Shy people fearful creatures outside are insane
You will never be part of our lives
You will never be part of our lives
You will never, you will never See through their eyes
