The grass is always greener, as I'm sure that you've found out.
If I find my way back on the last leg of this trip,
I'm betting I find you there.
As long as it's constantly changing.
As long as its constantly sound.
If theres no sense of impending danger
Theres no sense in hanging around for the winter.
If I'm not gonna be in your arms around me...
What have I got if your there?
We'll be home in December.
The leaves don't fall from the trees
As long as you remember you are always with me.
It's not my place to find it, not something that I get to choose
But dont be scared cause your not something I'm willing to lose.
I'll bet you find it in the last place you look.
